DREAM THEATER + Periphery
“a dramatic tour of events”

FEBRUARY 20TH 2012 – PORDENONE, Palasport Forum

A GREAT NEW ALBUM and AN EXCITING NEW EUROPEAN TOUR FOR DREAM THEATER

Three concerts in Italy for the most important progressive metal band in the world
On February 20th in Pordenone the closest tour date to the borders

DREAM THEATER, prog-metal's greatest and most famed band, are ready to release their new album “A Dramatic Turn Of Events” on September 13th (Roadrunner Records/Warner) and have already planned their tour, which will see them coming to Italy in February 2012 for three amazing shows.

The band, with its new phenomenal drummer Mike Mangini, will land in three Italian cities: Milan, Perugia and Pordenone on February 20th, the closest tour date to the borders with Slovenija and Austria.

DREAM THEATER will be performing a very special set, which will retrace their music career, while at the same time presenting their new album. DREAM THEATER are definitely the band not-to-miss for music, precision and technique fans!!!

The tour's special guests will be Periphery, a new American band musically in between metal, hardcore and progressive.

The tickets (general admission pre-sale 46 euro) will be available from 10 am on Saturday September 10th through the website www.ticketone.it and through the website www.azalea.it
